In this lecture it will be stated that all Social Services, including Services for disabled persons, are about Human Rights. How the Services are performed is a sign of the level of Democracy in every Society. The question of Humanity will also be raised and how hidden views on People who need life long support can and will affect the services. In spite of increasing knowledge in all areas of disability, stronger Acts on rights of disabled people and even UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with disabilities it is a fact that most disabled Persons and their Families have to fight for Services and Views that grant them Independence and an ordinary life. Policy and Practice in the 21.st Century have to respond to these issues.
